FROSH MIXER TOMORROW NIGHT

President's Message

Welcome back to campus! Enrollment figures and a spirit of enthusiasm among the students promise another fine year.

We know that you will be pleased with the physical changes of the campus — progress on the Student Union Building, the integration of Tenth Avenue into the campus, and the plans for the new million-dollar dormitory.

Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J.

We believe that these forward moving changes are indicative of the spirit of our Student Body, of our Faculty, of our Administration. Together we are interested in building a truly great center of Christian wisdom and culture to be carried on in an atmosphere of warm friendliness and personal interest in the student, as an individual, whose qualities of mind and heart are to be developed and enriched.

Our Freshman Class is the largest since the peak enrollment of the G.I. period, despite the fact that universities across the country anticipated a 5 to 10 per cent drop in enrollment. This surprisingly large class is an indication that here at Seattle University we have already begun the up-trend in student population expected in colleges in several years. This is another indication of the driving spirit of the university.

In these days when thoughtful citizens are being forced by widespread evidence of dishonesty and corruption to recognize the need of sound moral principles, we pray that both upper classmen and freshmen will, among the other things that they hope to derive from college life, consider that their first and most important duty to themselves, during their college years, will be to ground themselves in a sound and thoroughly Christian philosophy of life.

Alpha Phi Omega Reopens Parking Lot, Plans Another

Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, recently announced the reopening of a student parking lot accommodating thirty automobiles.

Jim Cunningham, chairman of the parking lot committee, announced that tickets will be on sale starting Wednesday, Oct. 1, from 10 o'clock to 12:30 at the Information Booth. Price of the tickets is $2.00. They are good for the duration of one quarter. Separate tickets will be sold to night school students. Proceeds of the sales will go to the fund for the eventual paving of the lot.

The lot is situated on Tenth Avenue between Marion and Columbia streets and may be entered via the alley.

Anyone purchasing a permit is reminded that it must be displayed on either the front or rear window. The lot is open to students only, and all unauthorized cars will be impounded.

Regulations Listed

Cooperation on the part of the patrons concerning the following rules is encouraged:

1. Patrons are requested to park in the slot corresponding with their ticket number. In the event some one is occupying your slot call AL 8974.

2. Day tickets are invalid after 6 p.m.

3. Park squarely in the slot, perpendicular to the guardrail, to avoid dents and scratches.

Don't be discouraged if you fail to obtain space in this lot. A second will be opened about October 10.

The new lot will accommodate 30 cars and will operate under the same provisions as the first one. Watch THE SPECTATOR for the time and place of ticket sales for this lot.

'WHO'S WHO' BOOK ON SALE OCT. 15

"Who's Who at SU," Seattle University telephone and address directory, will be on sale Wednesday, Oct. 15. Jack Gahan, IK Honorable Duke, announced that it can be purchased at the Information Booth after this date.

SEATTLE

UNIVERSITY

Vol. XX

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1952

No. 1

JOHN KIMLINGER, ASSU president, and MARY ELLEN BERGMANN, women students' prexy, remind RAY TONE (center) that freshmen must wear their beanies this week.

Open House Ends Tonight; Annual Mixer at Encore Concludes Freshmen Week

College life started for the freshmen of SU with orientation day Tuesday, Sept. 30. Under Tom Kornell, ASSU vice president and Frosh Week chairman, the exercises were held at the gym. They consisted of welcome speeches by the faculty, introduction to school organizations by Student Body officers, and departmental orientation.

ATTENTION

The Activities Board will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m., in room 123, to set up the Activities calendar for the coming year. According to the ASSU constitution and statutes, EVERY club on campus must be represented, either by an officer or a duly appointed delegate.

Classes formally began on Wednesday morning. That evening, open house was held in the LA building. Fifteen minutes were devoted to each club for a brief summary of activities.

Tonight the second half of open house will begin at 7:30. Meetings on the schedule are:

7:30	Pinoy	124
7:45	Commerce	118
8:00	Spectator	219
8:15	Philosophy	222
8:30	AWSSU	123
8:45	Pre-Dent	220
9:00	Gavel	223
9:15	Psychology	210
9:30	Education	119

With D. J. Jolly as chairman, the annual Frosh mixer is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 3. To be held at Encore Ballroom, 1214 East Pike, admission will be 75 cents. The dance will last from 9 until 12. As with all freshmen activities, green beanies are required.

Joe Farmer and his six-piece orchestra will provide the music. Singing will be furnished by the Chanticleers—Tom Stipek, Keith Lollis, Bill Smith and Bob Bachmann. Proceeds are for the United Good Neighbor Fund.

Dona Donaldson heads publicity arrangements for the dance. Virginia Elliott is in charge of ticket sales.

Class Elections Set For Monday Noon

Nomination of officers for the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes will be held next Monday, Oct. 6, at 12 noon. Classes will meet as follows:

Sophomores	Room 123
Juniors	Room 119
Seniors	Room 219

General nominations and a primary eliminating all but two candidates for each office will be held at this time. Final elections will be held the following Monday, along with the Student Assembly elections.

Class officers for 1951-1952 will conduct this meeting.

Student Body cards are required when voting in the finals.

Fall Quarter Opens Amid Major Campus Construction Work

With the start of the 1952-1953 school year, new students and old will notice constructional changes on campus. The first is the new Mall, which was completed during the summer. It replaces Tenth Avenue between the LA Building and Vets' Hall.

Plans for a new Student Union Building have become a well-launched program headed by Father McNulty, dean of the Engineering Department. With completion date set for about Feb. 1, construction is progressing as scheduled.

Projected improvements in the newly nicknamed CUB (Chieftain Union Building) include everything from conference rooms to terrace cafeteria. The first floor, which holds the cafeteria and kitchen, will have gray mottled tile walls. Plans include two lanes for serving, durable formica-covered tables seating four to six people, chrome chairs, and the latest modern kitchen equipment for Mrs. Anderson and her assistants.

Convertible Lounge

The second floor will house the 5,000-square-foot lounge, convertible to a dance floor, and the SPEC, Sodality, "Aegis," Student Body, Publicity, and conference offices. ROTC classroom, firing range, arms, and general storage will be in the basement.

Wharton Shifted To Parish Duties

Father Arthur S. Wharton, S.J., librarian for the past 12 years at SU, has been transferred to Lewiston, Idaho. He was appointed pastor of St. Stanislaus Church there. Father Vincent Conway will replace him as director of the library.

In addition to his library duties, Father Wharton taught English composition, advised foreign students, and headed the Fulbright Scholarship program. During his term of office as librarian, the total accession of books increased to 43,000.

Student Assembly Nominations Slated

Election of members to the Student Assembly, ASSU legislative body, will be held Monday, Oct. 13.

Petitions for nomination to these offices will be distributed at the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior class meetings next Monday and will be available at the bookstore through next Friday, Oct. 10.

Petitions must be returned to John Kimlinger, ASSU president, or Marion Helenkamp, ASSU secretary, by Friday, Oct. 10. Names of the candidates will be placed on the ballot according to the date on which they are filed with the secretary. All petitions must contain at least 30 bona fide signatures of members of the ASSU consenting to that member's nomination.

The Student Assembly, consisting of 15 members (five seniors, five juniors and five sophomores), has among its duties the approval of all presidential appointments and removals, the granting and revoking of charters, and the enactment of legislation in keeping with the ASSU constitution.

EXTENSION "30"

Here we are again, beginning another SU calendar year! The freshmen have already been duly welcomed and strongly urged to wear their green beanies for the rest of the week. Campus life probably looks pretty confusing to the frosh contingent, as it did to most of us when we were freshmen. We'd just like to make a small suggestion: Frosh, this is your school. As a matter of fact, with freshman enrollment estimated at around 900, you ARE a good-sized chunk of the student body. If something puzzles you, smile and ask someone who looks as if he has been around SU for years. He'll probably turn out to be another freshman, but anyway you've made a new friend.

We all begin the school year with vows of studying to the fullest extent all during the quarter. After a couple of weeks we often find that studying has small place in our calendar of events and activities. The SU Sodality has a theory along this line which, although rather basic, is a jolt to some of us.

This idea of a Student Vocation, as they call it, is as simple as this: Anyone with a job is duty bound to carry out his work to the best of his ability. As students we have a duty to do our BEST in our school work, especially when we consider that the effectiveness of our future life's vocation depends greatly on what, and how well, we learn here at SU. It's a proposition that deserves a lot of thought by all of us.

We'd like to pin a medal (if we had one) on the person (if we knew him) who suggested the idea of two lanes for serving in the new Student Union Building cafeteria. Students who live solely on coffee will appreciate this timesaver.

THE SPECTATOR office in the Tower looked familiar this week as the editorial staff and a few volunteers labored to meet the first deadline of the year. With typewriter keys clicking, gum snapping, dictionary circulating, and Extension 30 ringing busily, everything was back to normal.

Anyone who desires to join the staff family is urged to attend the SPECTATOR Meeting at Open House tonight. It will be held at 8 in room 219. If you can't make it then, come up for an assignment on Thursday between noon and 1 o'clock. THE SPEC office can be found in room 401 on the third floor of the LA Building.

—YOUR EDITOR.

Want a Job?

To the male students of Seattle University:

As a student at SU, one finds that there is much studying, activity, and pleasure. But what some people overlook is that there is also work—lots of work.

On campus there are two prominent male service honoraries, Alpha Phi Omega and Intercollegiate Knights. The purpose of these organizations is to help in making SU a smooth-running organ. They handle such tasks as ushering, ticket sales, drives, publications, clean-up details, and all other odd jobs that tax one's time, strength, and good will.

Now, this is where you come in, since applications for membership will be accepted for these two clubs very soon.

A Phi O and IK's want those who do not only want to work but also those who have the time to work. Falsely, many have emphasized the social life of these active organizations in the past. Of course, friendships are made and laughs are many. Compensation is made by get-togethers, but very little time is allowed for parties. How can there be time when blood drives, Good Neighbor drives, and ushering demand so much time?

If you would like to work and have the time to pitch in and make a greater SU, you have a place in Alpha Phi Omega or in Intercollegiate Knights.

SU Sodality Offers Best Way of Life for All Who Wish to Follow

—E. BEAULAUER, Prefect

The Sodality of Our Lady at Seattle University extends a welcome to all students, new and old, to take active part in its functions throughout the coming year.

Let me spend a few words telling you what the Sodality is in its fullness. Surprisingly enough, the Sodality is not a club or a series of projects, but a life one leads. Thus the Sodality is "a vocation strictly and properly so-called." This vocation is not a call to be nice people, with edifying devotional practices and projects. Its challenge is a challenge to become new men and women.

The vocation of a Sodalist is, then, a call to live daily the Sodality way of life as seen in the Rules. It is a call to a full-time apostolate, a 24-hour-a-day apostolate. Thus we must be constantly mindful of the fact that we are by our daily living, fulfilling a vocation destined for us by Almighty God Himself.

SODALITY'S TRUE GOAL

The goal of the Sodality is not to get students to make a particular Triduum, or to say certain prayers, or to join a special drive. The goal of the Sodality is to develop in Sodalists minds that think like Christ's and wills that want and choose what He wanted and chose.

This seems a bit too difficult, doesn't it? But as Chesterton once wrote, "Christianity has not been tried and found wanting; it has been found difficult

Once again as the autumn season rolls around, the ivy-covered halls of higher education reverberate to the familiar beat of active feet on the quest of knowledge. But there are many who are caught in the maze of unfamiliar surroundings and customs. Most of these are the members of the Freshman Class of 1956; it is to these that the attention of all colleges is directed so that they may be imbued with the spirit of college life and college tradition. Here are some sound words from the editor of the "Temple University News," which may well apply to the green beany wearers in Chieftaindom:

"This is a great university . . . Flashy convertibles and tweedy lads puffing pipes are hard to find around here. But there is a lively spirit, a determination to succeed, a willingness to work and learn that matches any school in the world. You will become part of that determination and, in time, you will become the very backbone of it—if you want to.

"Here's just one item you might keep in mind. Practically everybody around here works part-time, to make ends meet. Probably you will be in the same boat. Don't worry about it. . . . You can weave a part-time job into the pattern of your days without sacrificing your part in the myriad activities available to you at the university. It is this participation in classes, clubs, organizations, sports, and social life which makes the difference between just 'going to school,' and real college life.

"The class of '56 has before it one of the greatest opportunities in history—the atomic age. Success could bring a veritable paradise to this earth. Failure could blow us all off the map. The degree to which you are willing to take up the responsibilities of a free man in a free land (one of the few left) will in large measure be reflected in your attitude here.

"Give it all you've got. Good luck!"

From the exchange desk of the "San Francisco Foghorn":

A college freshman was being severely criticized by his professor.

"Your last paper was very difficult to read. Your work should be so written that even the most ignorant will be able to understand it."

"Yes, sir," said the student, "What part didn't you get?"

and left Korea in peace. "Kimchi Samuri" then disappeared also, with the promise that if Korea was ever in need of him he would return.

Now that this unhappy land is again threatened by the hordes from the North, we have reincarnated "Kimchi Samuri" to our own liking. Accompanied by his faithful "Aini" companion, "Honto," the "Robin Hood of the Rice Paddies," does his bit to rid his country of the invaders.

CHIEFTAINS TO PLAY TOP CAGE TEAMS

FOOTBALL NEWS

By DON DOYLE

The topic of conversation these days inevitably turns to football wherever people congregate. The drugstore cowboys elate in expounding each other's opinion of a sensational touch-down romp or an exciting pass play of the preceding Saturday's game.

The trend of late has been to replace the original T formation by the more flexible wing T and later the split T formation which allows even more diversification. The split T style which aims at spreading the defense slightly allows the quarterback the choice not only to fake or hand off, or pitch out a lateral to a sweeping halfback, or to pass; but offers him a chance to run the ball himself. These alternatives leave the defense loose and cautious.

Back in vogue is the powerful single-wing formation and its enormous possibilities arising from the buck lateral series with its reverses, spinners, passes and delayed slants off tackle. Spread plays have also become popular as a potent passing or running threat.

NOW AROUND THE NATION: Illinois looks like a strong bet to repeat as Big Ten champion in the Midwest, with Wisconsin a close second. The Purdue Boilermakers look mighty good, too. Don't count out Minnesota or the Buckeyes of Ohio State.

Michigan State is again one of the top teams of the nation. Notre Dame, with good backs and only average line, is in the middle of a rebuilding campaign to resume its position among the great grid powers. John Lattner is the leading ground gainer for the Irish.

IVY LEAGUE PROSPECTS

In the East it's Penn and Princeton in a two-way race to cop Ivy League laurels. The competition, mostly dominated by Catholic elevens, will be much closer among the independents with Holy Cross tabbed by writers as "the powerhouse of the East." Other strong teams are Boston College, Syracuse and Boston U. The latter is led by Harry Agganis, who is picked to be one of the top performers in the nation. What about Villanova, already the talk of 1952, beating Kentucky and Clemson, two of the top teams in the country last year, on two successive Saturdays?

Maryland and Clemson, both outlawed from the Southern Conference for playing bowl games, are the toast of the South again this year. I believe Maryland is a shade better. The Blue Devils from Duke should take conference honors.

Georgia Tech is tops in the Southeast. Tennessee deserves recognition despite the loss of several all-Americans. In the Big Seven it's tossup between Oklahoma, Kansas, and Colorado. Tulsa, Wyoming, and Texas look the best in their respective leagues.

On the Pacific Coast the experts are picking California to take all the marbles, but I like the Trojans from USC, who have a better variety of talent. Either one could go all the way to the Rose Bowl. UCLA, Washington and Stanford will wage a close fight for third. Don Heinrich, the Bremerton bazooka, could rain havoc through the sky lanes. The Huskies should improve and only lose three close ones this year.

THIS WEEK'S PREDICTIONS

With the use of slide rules, calculators, statistics, meteorology, etc., here is this week's predictions:

UCLA 14; Washington 19
Michigan State 33, Oregon State 6
Michigan 14, Stanford 21
Army 14, USC 27
Notre Dame 7, Texas 21
Washington State 21, Baylor 20
California 21, Minnesota 13
Clemson 7, Maryland 21

Les Whittles Named Frosh Hoop Coach

By DICK TROUSDALE

A major change in the athletic staff of Seattle University has taken place with the appointment of Les Whittles, former Chieftain basketball star, as coach of the frosh basketball team, the Papooses.

Whittles will replace Willard M. Fenton, who will have more time to devote to his duties as athletic director without the added burden of the coaching job.

An honor student, Whittles majored in education and was one of the two players who were lost to the varsity squad via the graduation route last June. The other is Bill Higlin.

Les, a favorite among Chieftain fans, scored 654 points in his two years on the team, 341 during the 1950-51 season, and 313 last year. In his sophomore year he transferred to SU from the University of Washington, and was forced to remain inactive during that season because of the eligibility rule.

The 6-ft. 3-in. forward proved invaluable to a team noted for its lack of height, and his rebounding skill also helped out in many important games. He was one of the starting five that memorable night that the Chiefs upset the famous Harlem Globetrotters at Edmundson Pavilion.

Les saw only limited action in the NIT tournament game with Holy Cross at Madison Square Garden because of an injury received during the Portland U series.

Whittles was also the starting first-sacker on the baseball squad for two years, and lent considerable aid to the powerful Chieftain batting attack. His loss as an active player is a heavy blow to SU's basketball hopes, but he can continue to help the athletic program in his new capacity as freshman coach.

Caterpillars, Cowboys Top Casaba Slate

By ROGER ALEXANDER

Will the Chieftain five better their 29 won, 8 lost record of last season? Will "Shots" O'Brien top his 1,051-point national scoring record? Will the Maroon and White receive and accept a possible tournament bid? These are but a few of the questions that will loom larger and larger in the minds of Chieftain fans as the basketball season rapidly approaches.

Hiyu Coulee Sets Sunday, Oct. 5 For First Hike

Regardless of weather conditions, Hiyu Coulee's first hiking trip will take place Sunday, Oct. 5. Heather Lake is the destination. The distance is about one mile each way.

Hikers will leave at 9 on Sunday morning from the north end of the Mall and return around 6 o'clock.

Those interested in hiking can sign the paper on the first floor bulletin board. This is only to estimate the transportation needed. Those who do not sign the list may come anyway.

The school bus and hired trucks will take the hikers to the starting point. All who are going are advised to bring a lunch to eat at the lake. A stop will be made at Everett for those who have not had breakfast.

For the information of the freshmen, Hiyu Coulee means "lots of hiking." All are welcome to attend any of the trips, whether or not they are members.

Keglers to Gather At Broadway Bowl

Bowlers are again invited to join the Intramural Bowling League. First preliminary meeting will be on Oct. 8 at 2:15. Father F. Logan, Arts and Science Department, is moderator.

No bowling experience is necessary. Sole requisite for membership is attendance at each Wednesday practice during the fall quarter.

Members meet at the Broadway Bowl, where a preferred rate is given to SU league bowlers. The objective of the club is eight or ten teams with four to each team.

MADISON MASTER CLEANERS

Madison at Minor

This year's varsity will face some of the toughest competition in the country. Big name teams like Wyoming, which won the Skyline Conference title last year; Oregon, NYU, Georgetown, USF, Portland, Montana State, and the Caterpillar Tractors, will furnish some of the opposition.

The Caterpillar Tractors, from Peoria, Ill., in particular, should prove to be the hardest team to beat. As AAU champions, the Caterpillars five beat the NCAA champ, Kansas University, last year and then participated in the Olympic games. But that's not all. They have added some new players who starred on college teams last season. Another good series will feature the Portland Pilots as our opponents.

Because of the limited seating capacity of the SU gym, all the home games will be held in the Civic Auditorium with the exception of the Wyoming series which will be held at the Edmundson Pavilion. Seventeen of the 30-game schedule will be played in Seattle, so there will be plenty of opportunity for the home fans to see this year's edition of Chieftain basketball.

Star Players Return

This year's addition of the Chieftains will be faced with the problem of replacing two stellar athletes, lanky Bill Higlin, star backboard man; and sturdy, dependable Les Whittles, who will turn his talents to coaching. The initial turnout will probably include nine of last year's club, paced by All-American John O'Brien. Along with John will be brother Ed, Jack Doherty, Ray Moscatel, all two-year veterans. One-year men include Wayne Sanford, Jack Johansen, Ray Soo, Don Ginsberg, and John Haberle.

Al Brightman was pleased with the news that two outstanding JC transfers decided to cast their lots with Seattle U. These are Gordon Hein, an outstanding California product; and Stan Glowaski, all-league selection from Grays Harbor JC. Up from the Papooses Coach Brightman will welcome 6-ft. 8-in. Joe Pehanick, John Kelly, Emmett Casey, Ron Bissett, Bob Malone, Whitey Schell, Frank McBarron, Pete Uglesich, Paul Reirson, and Bob Helbling.

Annual 'Mademoiselle' Campus Representative Contest Opens

"Mademoiselle" magazine is now accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership on its 1952-53 college board.

Girls who are accepted on the college board do three assignments during the college year. These give them a chance to write features about life on their campus; to submit art work, fashion or promotion ideas for possible use in "Mademoiselle"; to develop their critical and creative talents; to discover their own abilities and job interest.

College board members who come out among the top twenty on the assignments win a guest editorship and will be brought to New York next June to help write, edit and illustrate the August college issue. They will be paid a regular salary for their month's work, plus round-trip transportation to New York City.

While in New York, each guest editor takes part in a full calendar of activities designed to give her a head start in her career. She interviews a celebrity in her chosen field, visits fashion workrooms, newspaper offices, stores, and advertising agencies.

Nov. 30 is the deadline for applying for membership on this board. Applicants write a criticism of "Mademoiselle's" August, 1952, college issue. Successful candidates will be notified of acceptance on the college board early in December; the first assignment will appear in "Mademoiselle's" January issue.

For further information write to College Board Editor, Mademoiselle, 575 Madison Ave., New York 22, N. Y.

Last year's representative for Seattle University was Julie Dennehy.

New Equipment Being Installed In SU Library

Several changes in the SU library will go into effect this fall. Equipment has been added, including steel shelves for the bindery, accession room, librarian's office, and for the second level of the stack room. This will increase the stack capacity of the library.

A new, larger circulation desk has been installed, providing for greater student service. Within a short time more tables and chairs will be acquired in the reading room.

Installation of the new equipment may interfere with free operation of the library for at least three or four days after opening. Students are asked to be patient until complete order can be established.

Gutenberg Saluted During Catholic Bible Week; Sept. 28 to Oct. 5

This week marks the 500th anniversary of the printing of the Catholic Bible by Johann Gutenberg.

Previously, the event was observed in one day called Bible Sunday. Six months ago, however, the Catholic Biblical Association extended this time to one full week, stating, "It is only natural that this Book of Books should return to its own as more and more of the laity are rediscovering it."

The week, Sept. 28 to Oct. 5, also marks the greatest accomplishment to date of American Catholic Biblical scholarship — the publication of eight books of the Old Testament newly translated from the original languages. The project took a total of ten years' work. The first of the four volumes constituting the Old Testament will be released this week.

The Biblical Association, through their efforts to stimulate distribution of the Old and New Testaments, hopes to move Catholics to deeper study and more frequent reading of the Bible.

Gutenberg printed the first Book from St. Jerome's translation, called the Catholic Latin Vulgate edition. In 1570, the Council of Trent made this publication the only Roman Catholic version of the Bible.

An Indulgence of three years is granted to the faithful who for at least a quarter of an hour read the Books of Sacred Scripture as spiritual reading with the reverence which is due the word of God. A plenary indulgence is granted provided they perform the abovementioned pious work each day for a month.

Ordnance Head Arrives To Inspect SU ROTC

Major General E. L. Ford, chief of the Ordnance Corps, will arrive here October 6 to visit the Very Reverend A. A. Lemieux, Seattle University president, and Lt. Col. G. J. Schill, professor of Military Science.

General Ford is coming from the Pentagon in Washington, D.C., to review the staff and cadets of the university's ROTC. Before his departure on Tuesday evening for Pendleton, Ore., General Ford will inspect the campus and new ROTC facilities.

NOTICE

Silver Scroll will accept lists of activities of junior and senior girls. They may be given to any Silver Scroll member or turned in at the Information Booth during the week of Oct. 6-10. A 2.7 grade point average is necessary for membership in this honorary society.

Hickman Fund Offers Financial Aid to Local Men Students

Young men in the Seattle and King County area will have the opportunity to obtain aid, starting this fall, for the completion of their educations. Loans will be granted to approved applicants through the Hickman Student Loan Fund.

The Fund was established under the terms of the last will of Leona M. Hickman, and is administered by the Trust Department of Peoples National Bank in Seattle.

Before a male student applies for a loan he must obtain an introductory card from the Treasurer's office. He can have it signed by a faculty member or department head. The loans are not specified or limited in amount, but are based on each student's needs.

When an application is approved the student is required to give the Loan Fund his promissory note for the face amount of the loan. The note must be guaranteed by the parents if they are living. The note usually matures in one year but is ordinarily renewed at the maker's request until the loan has been paid in full. A low rate of interest is charged on the funds actually used by the student.

Repayment Plan

A modest monthly repayment program is arranged with each borrower when his education has been completed. Every effort is made to suit the loan and repayments to the particular needs of the individual student. When the student is employed, regular payments on the loan are emphasized rather than the size of each payment.

The Fund is administered with no idea of profit to anyone. The small interest rate is planned to bring in just enough revenue to pay minimum operating costs and furnish a reserve for losses, of sufficient size to assure the self-perpetuation of the Fund.

Mr. Stanley O. McNaughton, Commerce and Finance faculty member, will take care of arrangements for the loan at Seattle University.

Arrangements are in the planning stage for a similar fund for the women students.

Three Jesuits To be Included On Fall Faculty

Rev. Eugene Healy, S.J., is among the new teachers at SU this fall. Father recently completed his doctorate in Zoology at Columbia University in New York. He will teach a completely new course in Human Biology to both day and evening students, based on "The biological basis of human conduct."

Father Healy attended Seattle Prep before entering the Jesuit Order. Prior to his stay in the east, he was head of the Biology Department at Gonzaga University.

The Rev. Alexander McDonald, S.J., has joined the staff of the English Department at SU. He has recently attended special studies at the University of Oxford in London, England. Father McDonald will teach Composition I and a course in Creative Writing.

Rev. Frank Wood, S.J., has been on leave of absence at Stanford University for the past two years studying electrical engineering. He has taught at SU the past two summers and is now permanently joining the faculty as a fall quarter engineering instructor.

New Brochure Tells of Gains, Growth of SU

"Seattle U Reports," a quarterly booklet on developments of this school, was first published in August, 1952. The eight-page brochure is sent to those leading Seattle businessmen who have expressed an interest in SU.

These reports will be the accumulation of all the school news as reported in newspapers and other sources of information.

Motto of the publication is "A Greater Seattle University for a Greater Seattle." This clearly states the purpose of the booklet.

Such subjects as research work, honorary degrees awarded faculty members, extra-curricular activities, anything of personal interest and relation to the general welfare of the school will be treated in this booklet. Teachers, students, courses, building plans, research work and

Proposed Men's Dormitory Over Major Hurdle

With the newly obtained $1,200,000 long-term government loan, plans for the long rumored dormitory have become a reality. Site for the building will be on Cherry St., between Minor and Summit Avenues.

This six-story, Z-shaped building will have a 308-occupant capacity. The upper five stories will accommodate the students with approximately 30 rooms to each floor and two students in each room. Every floor will have its own lounge and laundry rooms. Cafeteria, snack bar, administrative offices, visiting parlors, and lounge rooms will be on the first floor, with recreational and storage facilities in the basement.

Plans and details should be completed in two or three months, with construction tentatively scheduled for March. Architect plans by John W. Maloney are posted on the first floor bulletin board.

Metcalf Attends Faculty Seminars

Mr. James Metcalf, Commerce and Finance Department, returned recently from San Francisco, where he attended the second annual university faculty seminar. With 14 other college teachers, he spent two weeks as a guest of Standard Oil Co. These teachers represented schools from Washington, Oregon, and California.

This convention was organized to better relations between Standard Oil of California and the colleges and universities. It is a means of bringing the practical commerce and finance together with the instructional courses.

The first week was spent in meetings and field trips within the Standard Oil holdings. On the following week, there was intensive individual study which ended with reports before a selected audience of educators. These reports will be compiled and sent to various schools for informative purposes.
